Seek New Life For Wage Board Industry Members

Sought For WSB WASHINGTON (A) - Administration officials attempted to pump

new life today into the floundering Wage Stabilization Board, pledging that wage curbs will be kept with or without a board. Mobilization Director Henry Fowler and Economic Stabilizer

Roger L. Putnam said last night they were hopeful of persuading a new set of industry members to take seats on the WSB with public and labor members.

The industry members quit as a group last week end, thereby preventing the WSB from operating, as a protest against President Truman's reversal of the board ruling on a pay raise for coal

The WSB had held only $1.50 of a $1.90 daily pay raise negotiated for John L. Lewis' soft coal miners was allowable without upsetting inflation controls. Truman overruled the WSB decision, allowing the full amount. The WSB's seven industry members thereupon walked out and accused Truman of "political expediency."

Fowler and Putnam said in a joint statement last night they are trying to get industry to assign new members to the crippled WSB. They said prospects for this looked good. But they added that, in any event, wage controls will not be abandoned.

The alternative seemed to be that Putnam or somebody else in Dulles Quits Post With the Truman administration would take over the WSB's duties and Carnegie Endowment decide what pay increases could

Let There Be Enlightenment

Nothing captures the imagination like the thought of a new government in the formative period of its existence. The clean slate must be written on with indelible chalk.

That is what is happening on the USS Helena out in the Pacific. The Korean trip which President' - elect Eisenhower was pledged to make has been turned into a massive briefing of his cabinet.

It's to be hoped that all those present had time to note before they went bounding o'er the main what the two great business organizations of the country were saying.

The theme throughout last week's convention of the National Association of Manufacturers was the importance of enlightened selfinterest in the days just ahead. Or to look at the seamy side, businessmen should not cut their throats with unenlightened self-interest because this is their last chance to prove they can do better in Washington than college professors& red-rots, lefties, labor leaders and the Hubert Humphreys of politics.

United States Chamber of Comerce is equally earnest and outspoken about the opportunity for the people who create and administer the national wealth to prove they can be trusted with the federal government.

"Communities everywhere," the U. S. Chamber says in a press release," have got to break the habit of running to the federal treasury whenever they want some kind of a new project. It's encouraging to note that some communities never did get out of that healthy American habit of paying their own way, while others are getting back in the habit again."

Unless everybody quits milking the federal treasury, concludes the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, there will be no tax reduction; there can't be any reduction.

So much for enlightenment in the resolution, or what hel-is-paved with, stage. It remains to be seen what will happen when the Eisenhower government takes over less than six weeks from now, though there can't be much doubt about what will happen if it's torn to pieces by unenlightened self-interest.

What happens in that event has just been demonstrated. There is a mess in Washington.

According To The Code

One of the urgent matters which will come before the Ohio General Assembly next year is a proposed revision of the General Code. The bureau of code revision, which has been at work since 1945, is ready with a new code which has been substantially changed both in arrangement and wording.

The question before the Assembly will be whether or not to accept the result of the bureau's work. While there can be no doubt that rearrangement of the sections of the law was long overdue, there will be inevitable doubts about the rewording of some of the

This rewording was made necessary by the fact there has been no general overhauling of the General Code of Ohio since 1910. Every two years the legislature has met and passed new laws, amended old ones and occasionally repealed some laws. But except for the work done by the bureau of code revision with laws pertaining to domestic relations and municipal courts and already approved, there has been no systematic rationalization of Ohio statutes. They duplicate, overlap and contradict.

This project is not to be confused with the proposal on the ballot last November for a constitutional convention, A constitutional convention would have been concerned only with constitutional law. The bureau of code revision is concerned only with statutory law.

Make A Note Of It

More than 1,000 bankers from 40 states met in Chicago last week to exchange ideas. The Wall Street Journal listened in.

It overheard the bankers' querulous discussion about their rural clients. Farm income is dropping. Farm expenses are staying high. Farmers are working harder to stay where they are. Many are unable to hold the pace. Some are borrowing more money to keep things going. Others are cashing in their chips and getting out before their losses increase. Farmers are still prosperous by depression standards and are doing well even by boom standards, but the boom is beginning to bump a little. Money isn't easy.

Make a note of it. The first significant symptom of weakness in the boom of the twenties was a decline in agricultural purchasing power, caused by the fact farmers were paying out more than they were receiving.

That disparity continued until 1942. In 1949, it was on the verge of being repeated in the mild recession dispelled the next year by war

At the close of 1952, agricultural purchasing power has been used up, with some to spare, by high prices. The parity ration, which reached a high of 113 in February, 1951, was threatening to go below 100 for the first time since

The basic fact to be borne in mind is that, under Eisenhower, there will certainly be a change of policy. Such a change cannot take effect for 43 days because not until inauguration day will Gen. Bed Rest Necessary In Virus Pneumonia Cases

A letter received some weeks long. It is true that very few vicago serves as such an excellent in- tims of the disease die from it, but troduction to the subject of virus pneumonia that it shall be quoted at some length. "When I came down with virus pneumonia," writes Mrs. T., "I had been over the worst part of started with a temperature, and after a few hours I began to break out all around my lips with fever blisters. The same night my temperature went very high, and then I broke out into severe sweating and chills.

"The next few days were the same. At the time we were broke and I didn't have money for a doctor, and not knowing what was wrong I let it go for four days. But after I started coughing up blood I made up my mind that money or no money, I better find out what was wrong with me. Now, after several months, I still have to be careful and not strain too much. and I feel tired all the time."

The letter quoted brings up several important things about virus, or atypical pneumonia. This disease, like most colds and influenza, is caused by a virus, which is a tiny living organism too small to see under the micoscope. As in Mrs. T's case, it often starts like an ordinary cold with cough, running eyes and nose, and perhaps some fever which may not be noticed at first. Neglect is a dangerous thing, and

Mrs. T. is lucky that the effects were not even worse. Certainly strict bed rest from the beginning is most desirable, and this is particularly true since treatment with drugs is of somewhat questionable value, though one of the relatives of penicillin - aureomycin - h a s been claimed by some to be useful.

One of the most annoying things about virus pneumonia is the fact that complete recovery takes so

Election Officials Convene In Columbus

COLUMBUS, O. P-The second session of the annual conference of the Ohio Association of Election Officials opens today with discussions of the legal problems in election procedures.

Mrs. Lilliam Trueblood, attorney in the election division of the secretary of state's office, will tell delegates from local election boards about new changes in the Ohio election law and how it affects election operations.

Monday the delegates heard Secretary of State Ted W. Brown tell them they had done a good job in handling the recent elections. Brown warned, however, the 1953 election will be complicated by the large number of local officials to be elected and changes in the election laws.

Officers named at Monday's session included John D. Teichman, Cincinnati, president; Albert A. Horstman, Dayton, first vice president: Jennings B. Cole, Portsmouth, second vice president; Mrs. Ethel Oneacre, Canton, secretary, and Mrs. Phoebe Welsh, Steubenville, treasurer.
